The teenager is a symbol of modern America. He is a youthful composite of study, play, wonder, and knowledge. Each day of his life he is exposed to new experiences which become the basis for his living. Among these experiences are being with others, being a leader, and being a follower. Also an influence on the teenager's life are the people with whom he is associated, namely parents, friends, and teachers.

The teenager experiences these things in many varied ways. His living at home influences him in one manner while school life makes a completely different impression upon him. Let us now venture into the life of a teenager at school.

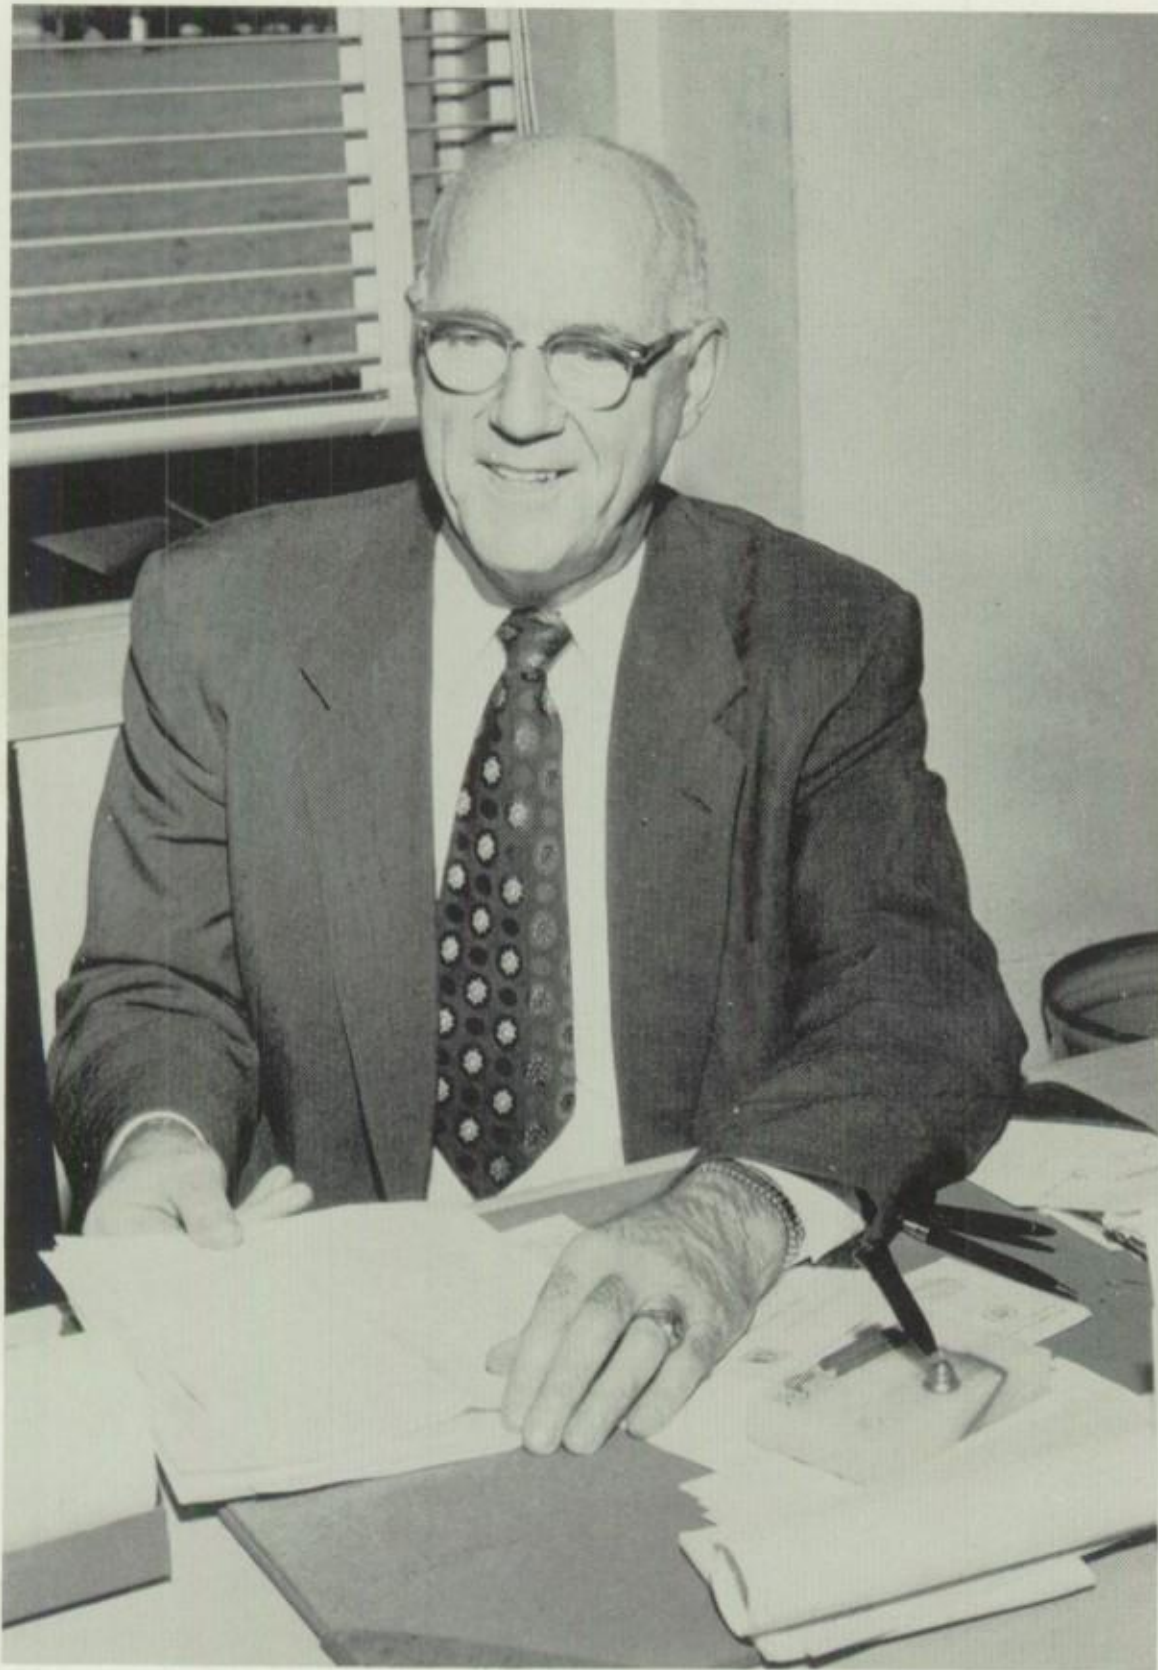

Although she has been with us just for our senior year at I. H., she has helped to make that year very memorable. Her aid as adviser has been more than valuable, both to the class and to each of us personally. She has always been on hand to cheer us in our discouragement and to encourage us in our happiness. Her help and work have extended "far beyond the call of duty." In an effort to show our gratitude to her, we, the Class of 1957, proudly dedicate our annual to—

TYPICAL TEENS

SUPERINTENDENT

Mr. C. M. Patrick

"I agree with no man's opinions. I have some of my own."

—Turgenev

Seniors, let this be your motto. The shrinking of our world is bringing with it an ever increasing and alarming tendency to conform. Independent thought has become a rarity; its substitute is the dependent philosophy of dumb acquiescence. Avoid this unthinking compliance with group tenets. Your impending graduation clearly demonstrates that you have the ability to think. Apply this gift! Develop your own carefully reasoned opinions. Compare them. Test them. If they are sound, accept them. If, on the other hand, they are faulty, search further. Find the truth.

C. M. Patrick

PRINCIPAL

Mr. Robert L. Walter

"I agree with no man's opinions. I have some of my own."

Memo to the Seniors:

A single word which could best characterize the class of 1957 is maturity. This is the class that has been through all of the growing pains of the final stages of completion of a full scale high school program. With this class, members of our school have participated widely in worthwhile activities far beyond the limits of the classroom. Our school is a better place because you have been here. Good luck!

Robert L. Walter

ALMA MATER

Hail Alma Mater's Colors proudly flying,
Red and White, we hold thee high above.
Dearer to us than crimson deep or purple,
Red and the White, To thee we pledge our love.

Though some love the blue and grey,
And others a gleam of gold;
The flash of the green or silvery sheen,
Displayed when the flags unfold.
Whatever the shade may be
That leads others through the fight;
Though colors are many,
You'll not find that any
Compare with the Red and White.

SENIORS

SENIOR CLASS OF 1957

CLASS OFFICERS: Jim Crane, vice president; Barbara Anderson, secretary; Gretchen Bohlander, treasurer; Charlie Fibbe, president.

Early in September 1953, we as freshmen set camp at the bottom of Mt. Graduation. Our guides for this year were Mr. Boland, homeroom teacher, and John Kirschner, class president, and under their leadership we sponsored the first social event of our high school career—Harvest Hop. Selling red and white beanies helped us finance our expedition.

Half way up the first slope of the mountain, we stopped to participate in the first IH basketball homecoming with Alahna Weller as freshman attendant. Another important event on our climb was the Pow Wow, soon followed by a cast party.

As we came closer to the end of our first climb, we held the Frosh Fracas, a dance at which George and Marilu Case from WSAI spun our favorite records. The last big events of the year were Recognition Day and a high school picnic at Sharon Woods.

Our second advance up Mt. Graduation was led by Mr. West and Mr. Vian, homeroom teachers, and John Kirschner, newly-re-elected president.

We were joined, for the first time, by the game of football, which was to become a part of our daily lives. Home football games were played at Madeira, where the first IH football homecoming took place and Sally McLennan was sophomore attendant. We took advantage of the football games by selling red and white paper shakers.

The G.A.A. "Sno-Ball" was our first high school semi-formal dance of the year. At the second annual basketball homecoming, Mary Andersen represented the sophomores. Shortly after Recognition Day in June, we reached the half-way point in our climb.

Early in September 1955, we again continued our climb, guided by Mrs. Steele and Mr. Mahan, homeroom teachers, and Jim Crane, class president.

The highlight of our sports life came when IH's two-year old football team beat Harrison, a team which had been undefeated for three years. Joyce Reith was chosen as junior attendant for the second annual football homecoming.

Selling Christmas cards and buying class rings were highlights of our junior year.

With winter came the annual G.A.A. semi-formal and an open house at Carol Wilkening's for juniors. Accompanying winter came basketball homecoming with Charlene Hartline as junior attendant.

Every Family Has One, our junior class play, was presented early in May. Soon afterward we demonstrated our ability to transform the gym into the scene of a celestial ball. Following the Junior-Senior Prom dance, a worship service was held after which we cruised down the Ohio River on the Johnston Party Boat. At dawn we proceeded to breakfast and, after a few hours of sleep, to Winton Woods for a picnic.

To make our junior year complete, the student council made arrangements for the first annual Bermuda Day.

The summit of Mt. Graduation was in sight as, in September 1956, we began our senior year. New to both us and the school were our homeroom teachers, Mr. Atherton and Miss Graham while Charlie Fibbe took over as class president. In order to reach the top with flying colors, we sold IH decals and book covers.

In October we seniors posed for our pictures. Also in October, Sally McLennan reigned as football queen while Joyce Reith was senior attendant.

We Were Young That Year, our senior class play, was presented in the fall. Later the Sno-Ball dance was followed by an open house for seniors at Carol Wilkening's.

With winter came the basketball homecoming at which Carol Wilkening, our queen on crutches, was crowned, and Charlene Hartline was senior representative in the court.

March marked the last Pow Wow in which we could participate. To help us remember this Pow Wow, the senior girls danced to cowboy and mambo music. Later senior girls were honored at a tea given by the newly-formed Y-Teens.

With the month of May began our last steps up the mountain. The class of '57 enjoyed the first senior class trip in the history of IH. A week in New York was filled with excitement and fun!

As Baccalaureate came closer, we realized that our high school career was coming to a definite end. On May 29 we conquered our long climb to Mt. Graduation as we received our diplomas. Although our lives have now separated, we can always look down the mountain and remember the days we had at Indian Hill High School. It was well worth the four-year climb of fun and hard work to reach such a thrilling moment as Graduation!

SEVENTH GRADE

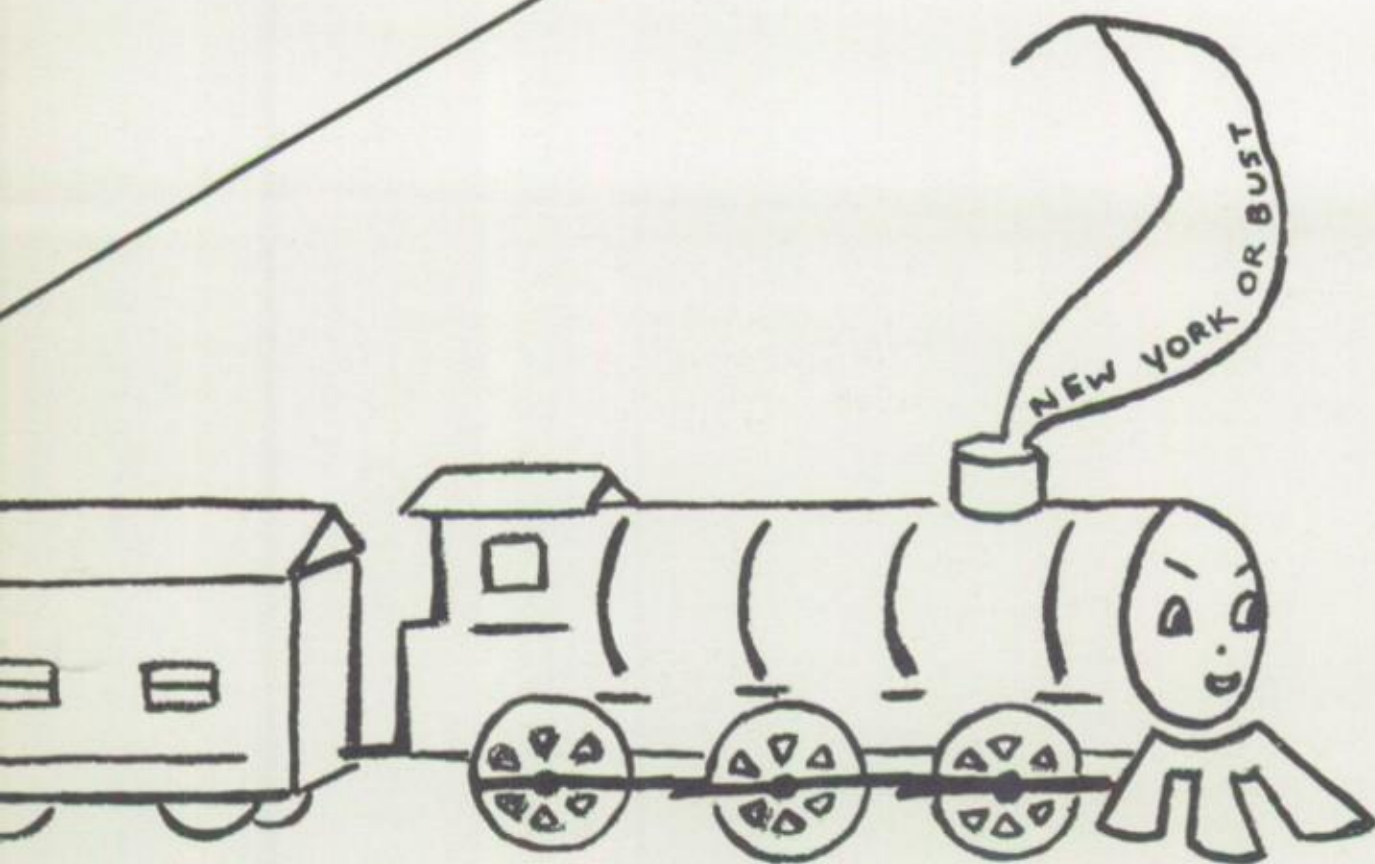

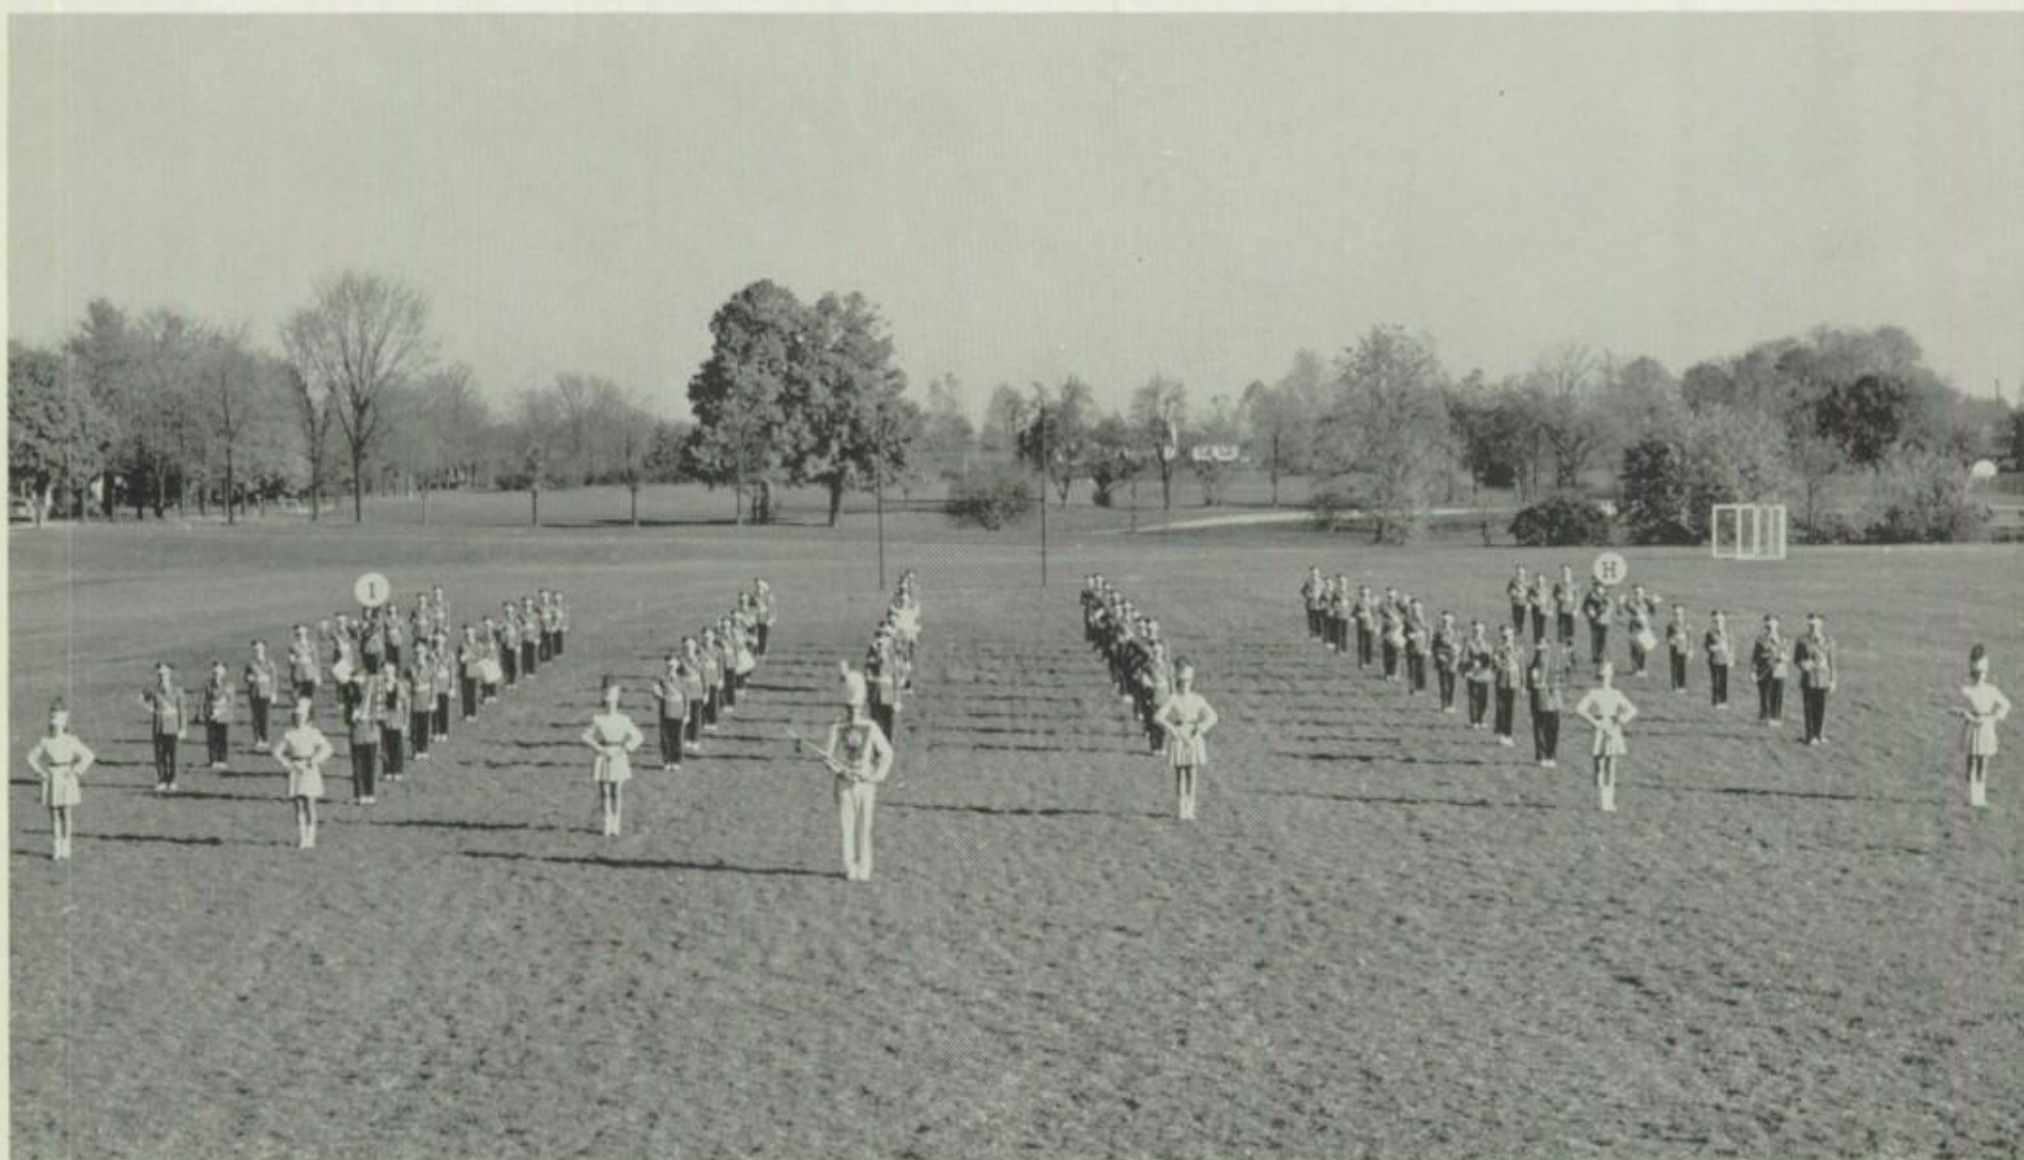

ACTIVITIES

MARCHING BAND

The 1956 Indian Hill marching band, under the direction of Mr. William C. Fenton, was the biggest and best in its history. Made up of 72 students in grades seven through 12, the band was present at all football games, giving its lively support to the team. Its musical performances at half-time won it much well-deserved praise.

The band is hoping to expand during the year, and it will be going on the field next fall even bigger and better than before.

A new function of the band this year was the Band Council, composed of two members elected by the band from each class. Headed by band president Jim Crane, the council planned and coordinated all band activities.

MAJOR AND MAJORETTES

Drum major: Dave Hartman. Majorettes: Carol Bruck, Emily Lindeman, Charlene Hartline, Johannah DeCamp, Mary Lodwick, Cynthia Schmidt.

No football game would be complete without the appearance of the drum major and majorettes proudly leading the band onto the field. Throughout football season they delighted the fans by providing a new and different twirling routine each week. Additional credit may be given to these students for their active participation in the concert band.

J. Meyer, T. Caldwell, J. Maloney, T. Diekmeyer, F. Holcomb, T. Graham, D. Petke, N. Fry, L. von Hedemann, P. Conley, R. Newstedt, D. Fogg, T. Parish, F. Taylor, J. Crane.

A new organization in the band department this year is the brass ensemble. Presenting its stately music of the 16, 17, and 18 centuries, it performed at all regular band concerts and also for outside civic groups.

JUNIOR- SENIOR PROM

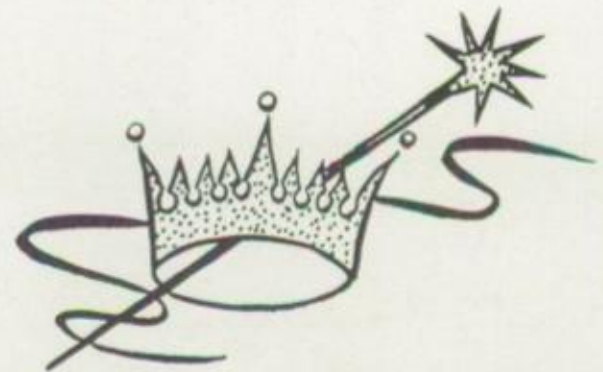

QUEEN SABRA KNEPPER and KING TOM HOFMANN

GRIFF RESOR—Master of Ceremonies

Carrying out the theme of "A Southern Mansion and Garden," the Juniors transformed the gym into a scene of beauty as the Junior-Senior Prom started off a weekend of fun. Just before the dance on May 18, there was balloting for the Prom King and Queen, and at midnight, Sabra Knepper and Tom Hofmann were crowned the Royal Couple by Griff Resor, president of the Junior class. The members of the court were Lynne Wiebell, Sally McLennan, Gretchen Bohlander, John Kirschner, Jim Prohaska, and Charles Fibbe.

After an evening of dancing to Chris Cristensen's band, a church service was conducted at Armstrong Chapel by Rev. Vandegriff and Rev. Tucker.

At 3:30 AM, the excited couples boarded the Johnston Party Boat for a moonlight ride down the Ohio River. By 6:00 the hungry group was ready for breakfast at the homes of Haven Mossman and Rick Bryan. Sleep was next on the agenda, and for those who could still stand, a picnic was enjoyed later in the day.

By Sunday evening, a weary but happy group again found their way home after another unforgettable Junior-Senior Prom.

First row: Mr. Walter, P. Stephan, C. Hartman, M. Schomburg, S. Shirk, C. Meininger, D. McLennan.
Second row: C. Stephan, G. Resor, B. Knueven, C. Fibbe, R. Bryan.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Our Student Council was organized in 1953 and became a member of the National Association of Student Councils this year.

The class president and two other members from each class were elected as representatives on the council. This year's council president, who was elected by the entire student body, was Charles Stephan. Other officers were Rick Bryan, vice president, and Marsha Schomburg, secretary-treasurer.

Under the direction of Mr. Walter, the sponsor, the Student Council tried to improve the relationship between the student body and the faculty. Other projects included a mock presidential election and the support of a foster child.

- O - O -

More than twenty per cent of the students at Indian Hill have a scholastic average high enough for NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY requirements! This year twenty-three new members were taken in—a record number.

Grades are not the sole requirement for membership, although each eligible junior and senior must maintain at least a "B" average. Prospective members must display qualities of leadership and service and merit an affirmative vote of the faculty. Sophomores may become probationary members in their second semester.

"Salvete, Amici!" . . . is the standard greeting of the Indian Hill Latin Club members. One of the most active organizations of the school, the Latin Club consists of thirty-six members.

The club has attended several Junior Classical League state conventions; at this year's convention it was awarded first prize for its project display. The J.C.L. holds not only state conventions, but also one each year on the national level. The attendance of this year's convention, held in Colorado, was the object of all the club's money-making drives.

The Latin Club also participated in activities within the school, such as its annual Latin banquet, slave auctions, and monthly business meetings.

CHIEFTAIN

CHIEFTAIN EXECUTIVES—Mrs. Steele, advisor; Miss Kelly, advisor; J. Murphy, editor; Sally Grace, assistant editor.

The Chieftain this year has been the project of the journalism class, instead of an extracurricular activity as it has been in past years. This year it had a new head, designed by Mr. John Buhrlage, husband of Janet Buhrlage, office secretary. From cover to cover the Chieftain has proved its worth. Among the features were included a quarterly list of honor students, a gossip column—Tee-Pee Talk, a senior profile column—Hall of Fame, and a complete sporting and news coverage.

Credit for the paper goes mainly to Mrs. Steele and Miss Kelley, co-advisors, and to Judy Murphy, editor, although the entire staff of the Chieftain worked hard to publish it monthly.

QUILL AND SCROLL

The Indian Hill chapter of Quill and Scroll increased its membership to eight, as more students interested in journalism qualified for membership. Candidates for this international honorary society are nominated by Miss Graham, annual advisor, and Mrs. Steele, Quill and Scroll advisor. In addition to participation in some phase of journalism, these students must also be scholastically rated in the upper third of their class. New members nominated this year were Joyce Reith, Julia Stevens, and Sally Grace.

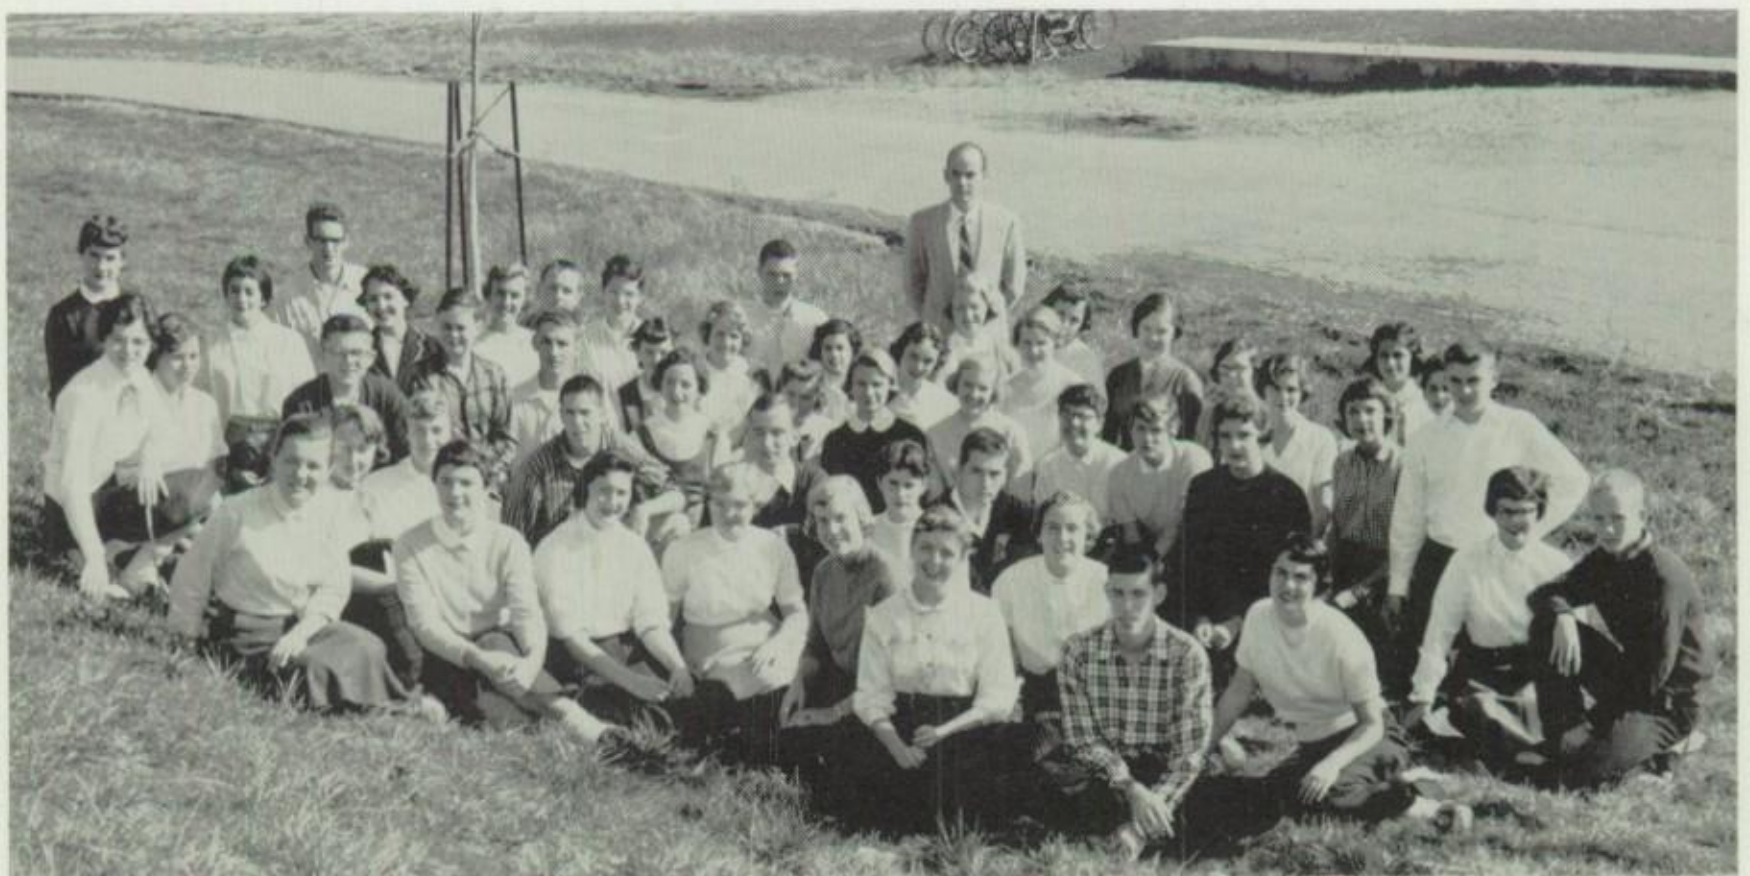

DRAMATIC CLUB

John Eilers, treasurer; Bonnie Busch, vice president; Barbara Anderson, secretary; Gretchen Bohlander, president.

Are you a budding Cecil B. de Mille or a frustrated Ethel Barrymore? If you are, you should, or do, belong to the Dramatic Club. Though lacking a stage and many facilities, this club has been an active group at Indian Hill for six years.

Organized by Mrs. Patrick, and now under the direction of Mr. Kincaid, the Club has several theatrical productions a year. A one-act skit, Wildcat Willie Carves a Turkey, a three-act comedy, Father's Been to Mars, and another three-act play, not yet chosen, were this year's presentations.

The Club gives students an opportunity to work backstage with make-up, sound effects, set decorations, props, and costumes, as well as actually performing. Though it is operated on a shoestring, the Dramatic Club hopes to earn enough money in the near future to add to its present equipment.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

A delicious aroma from the home economics room tells us that the F.H.A. members are "cooking up something." Under the able direction of Mrs. Corbett, the girls have served food at the P.T.A. meetings. Another of their projects included a visit to the Electric Show to see the "Home in the Clouds." Having learned how to be future homemakers, the members will indeed live up to their name.

The Junior Red Cross is not only national but international in its scope.

Membership of the J.R.C. is made up of the whole student body. Each homeroom is represented on our Junior Red Cross Council by two members, a boy and a girl.

Some of their projects this year were making favors for hospitals, entertaining at hospitals, filling a school chest, and making a record to be sent overseas.

Our school was very honored last spring when one of our Junior Red Cross members, Charles Stephan, was chosen, with thirty-one other students from the United States, to attend an International Red Cross Camp in Europe.

G.A.A.

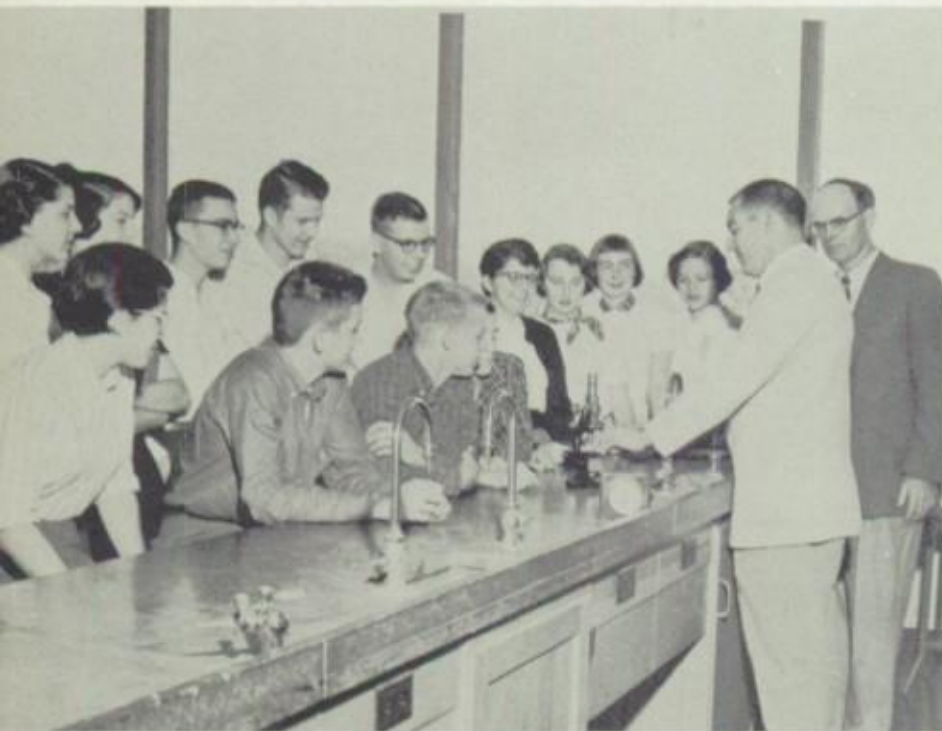

Fun, frolic, and friendship are the basis of the G. A. A. at Indian Hill, in the fourth year of its organization. Under the leadership of Miss Mary Thomas, advisor, and Marlene Adrick, president, the Girls' Athletic Association has sponsored hikes, basketball and volleyball games, and their annual Christmas semi-formal dance. Each year the club arranges a play day with a neighboring organization and provides sports and entertainment for all. The girls worked hard to earn their required number of points for a letter, and their year has been a very successful one.

HI-Y

The boys of Hi-Y have proved to be good standing members in their chapter of the Y.M.C.A. this year. They have carried good will to many families at Christmas time by supplying them with turkeys and baskets of canned goods.

The Science Club had to change sponsors during the year when Mr. John Canada resigned in order to enter the field of industrial chemistry. The teacher who assumed the leadership of the embryonic scientists was Mr. Ralph Atherton. Members of the club attempted to construct a rocket and successfully performed laboratory experiments pertaining to various projects of timely interest. Projects were entered in several exhibitions during the year.

Although not too successful in the win-loss column, this year's football team was always fighting and hard-hitting to the last man. Their genuine spirit, teamwork, and sportsmanship, which pervaded each challenging contest, brought them well-deserved praise and loyal fans.

Co-captains John Kirschner and Jim Prohaska were the mainstays and enthusiastic leaders of the team, while Mr. Canada and Mr. Mahan were their patient and hard-working coaches.

Throughout the last three years the Indians have played under the Hamilton County League, but due to an increased enrollment in many schools, this league is being dissolved. Beginning this fall, IH will be under the newly-formed Eastern Hills League.

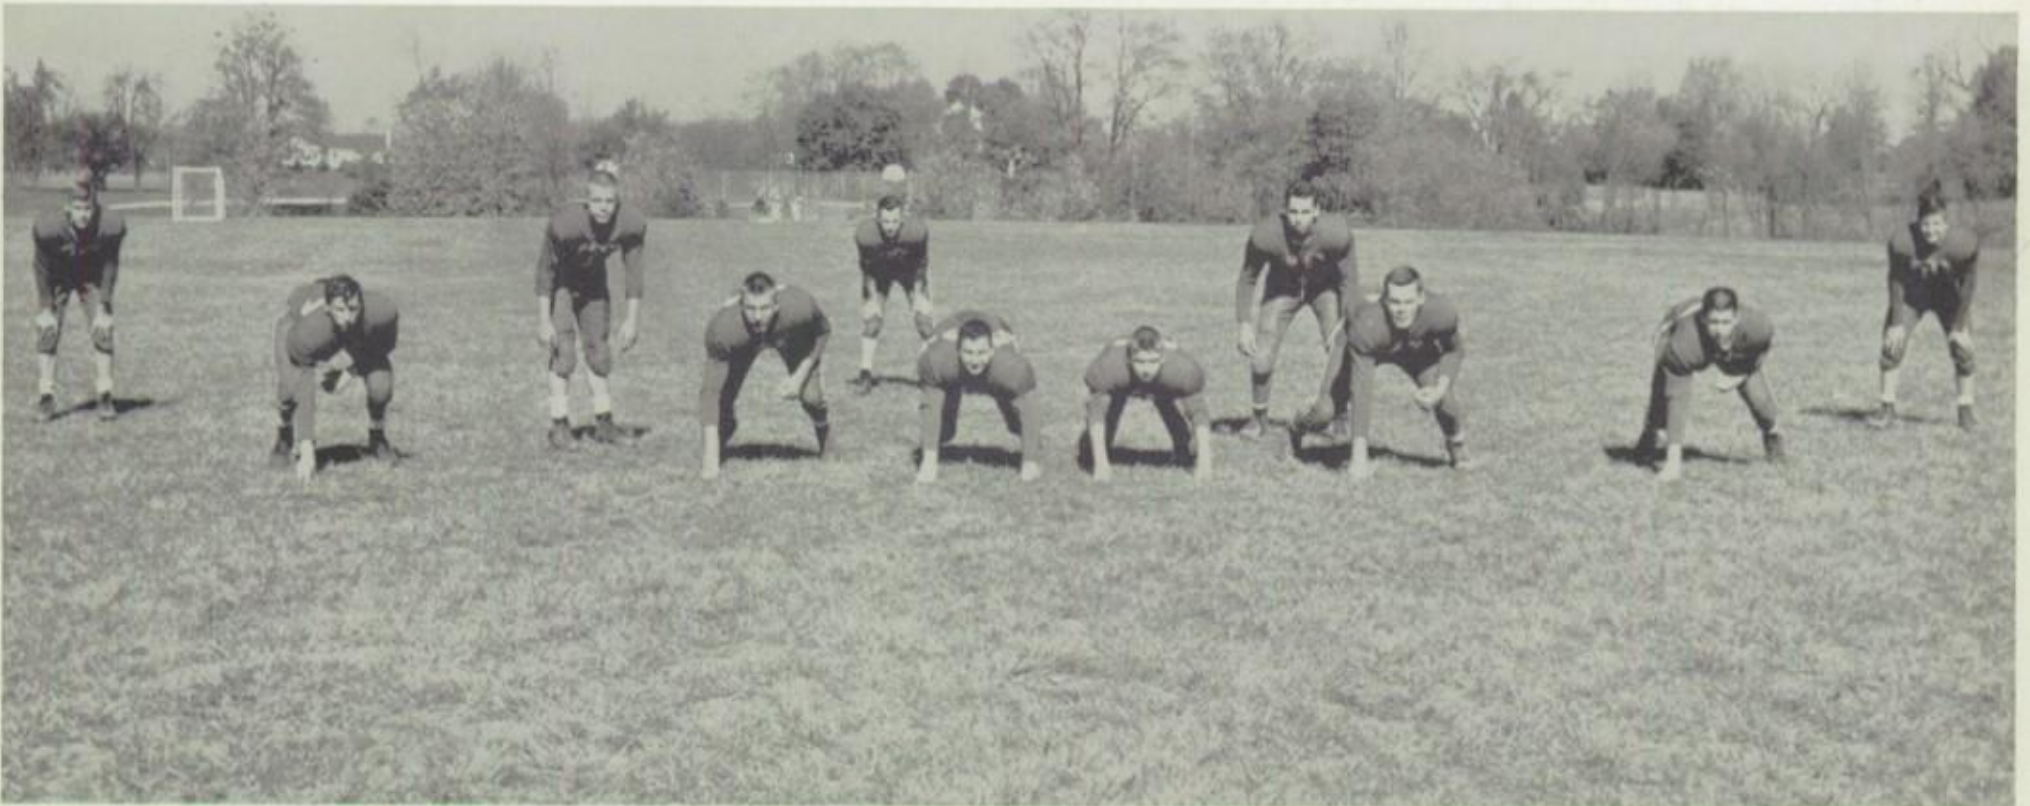

At the end of any playing season, the players always feel a little sad, but this year the team felt doubly so, because of the loss of their coach, Mr. Canada. Following the last football game, Mr. Canada left Indian Hill and the teaching profession to go to Michigan as a chemist in industry.

This year the Varsity Basketball team fought long and hard on the court to bring home some wins. Although the final scores were not always in their favor, the members of the team never failed to lose sight of sportsmanship and a hard-fighting spirit.

Mr. Boland's rigid and constant training was the greatest influence behind the boys and will continue to be for next year's winning team.

Two of our seniors, Curt Gamble and John Kirschner, made an outstanding showing for the Indians this year. Each qualified to be on the City All-Star team and participated as members of that squad.

Regarded highly by his fellow teammates for his skill and sportsmanship, John Kirschner was elected the most valuable player of the year. He was awarded a beautiful trophy at the Sports Banquet.

The Junior Varsity team practiced hard and played well this year, and their games were often close ones when the final scores were recorded. Although their record does not reward their hard work and long hours of practice, the team deserves a lot of credit for their fine display of teamwork and sportsmanship.

There were sixteen boys in training for the J.V. team and we are sure they will be the material from which our varsity teams in the future will be able to reach the top in the several tournaments that are played. The two managers of this team were always on hand with the kind of spirit that is needed by a team when the going is rough. So often the work that is done by managers goes unnoticed and just "taken for granted."
